“ I didn't know Andrew, nor any of his family, but I live nearby and go past these grain bins every day. I will never pass by there again that I won't think of you all and hurt for all of you. I recently lost my husband, not to a tragic accident, but he was in the farming industry, too, and he and all the employees worked around grain bins all the time, so this really hit close to home for me. I followed the story online all that day hoping for a better outcome. Please accept my sincere sympathy and prayers.

The acknowledgement you gave the Florence County Emergency Responders was so very gracious, and it is so gracious and generous that you requested memorials go to their department. You will remain in my heart...

“ I remember living down the road from the Rupards. My son Joshua was there everyday hanging out with Matt and Andrew (plus his little crush on Ashley :)). Just little kids playing soccer running around and laughing. It's heartbreaking. I still see him as a little kid with glasses. When a child from the neighborhood is lost then it is a lost for everyone. I am so sorry Terry and Julie.
