“ My mother Lulu, and Gaylee shared a special freindship that filled my childhood. I can still hear their giggles and gal pal chats. Joyce, Jackie and Joyce DelBoccio your beautiful mother and sister, Gayelee, overcame trials with grace. Gayelee, learned self-preservation and self-love without harsh judgement of others. Beauty and fashion walked side by side with Gayelee.

I send you all, my condolences. Grief has its own schedule. Lulu had 30-years sobriety and it took me one year to say good-bye to Lulu, but once I grasped the grief and let it go, the celebration of Lulu's life now brings me smiles. I hope that if there is any unfinished family emotions that they are usurped by the love you shared.

Knowing your family has been my childhood pleasure.

The dress in the attached photo is from my 6th grade graduation when Gayelee shopped with me for my passage of rights to high school graduation. Gayelee, by example, taught me how to be a lady.
